FROM WASHINGTON

THE HOUSE WITH THE PRESIDENT.

RULES.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.] As soon as Comley could disengage himself from Sadie, he gave chase to the fleeing Negro. Through fields and woods the race between evil-doer and avenger continued, Hawkins setting a hot pace, but Comley kept on and by superior endurance overtook his chase. The excitement was intense. Lynch talk began to be heard on all sides. The excitement was intense. Lynch talk began to be heard on all sides. The excitement was intense. Lynch talk began to be heard on all sides. The excitement was intense. Lynch talk began to be heard on all sides. The race feeling runs high and trouble is not unlikely. I have given to alittle and which I have quoted word for word, that the washington Times presented to its tens of thousands of readers, many of whom were ready to declare lynching to Cuba, until President McKinley has had time enough to formulate and any continued apparently in its determination. tion or take any other action relating to Cuba, until President McKinley has had time enough to formulate and announce his policy.

The real friends of Cuba want more than a recognition of belligerency; they want to see the island independ-ent; and to that end they are steadfastly working, meanwhile, the money apopristed by Congress for the relief f destitute Americans in Cuba, is being used for that purpose by the U.S. Consuls. There is no good reason for any undue haste in taking the next step, especially when haste might de-feat the very object sought—the end-ing of bloodshed in Cuba. President

President McKinley has been so occupied with other matters that he has not had time to decide what to do about revoking the extensions of the civil service rules, made by Mr. Cleveland, but he has heard the complaints of many prominent republicans conthese extensions and there is very little doubt that when he takes the quesknow by experience just how they are working, may be had from the follow-ing vigorous used by Assistant Secretary Ryan of the Interior Department: "The civil service law has been per-verted and dragged into mire to serve partisan ends; but even that is not

Hosse when the civil service bill was passed and he voted for it, and still believes in it, but he thinks the partisan barnacles put upon it by Mr. Cleveland will have to be scraped off or the country will become disgusted with the entire law. More evidence of the partisan working of the rules under the last administration has been submitted to the Senate Investigating Committee, and a number of bureau chiefs, iscluding Commissioner of Patents Butterworth, have added their recommendation that the present recommendation that the present the witnesses, I listened to the testi rules modified,

It is not for me to say how much the press did toward influencing the mob to lynch Joseph McCoy, nor how much it did toward influencing the jury to bring in a verdict of guilty against the man now awaiting death in Fairfax C. But as a member of the white race, duty as a christian who professes to have my neighbor as my from home and consequently unable to professes to love my neighbor as my-self, demands from me a true version of the alleged criminal assault on the hittle school girl Sadie Scherier by the Negro boy, Albert Hawkins in the fall of 1895. Never before has the unvariabled truth in this case found its way and a scuffle ensued. Then a little neowniting helped it to be one little prompting helped it to be con
